Increase your visibility in the CLIB network via our sponsorship opportunities.

At the CLIB International Conference, we offer various packages and individual options allowing you to introduce yourself to our broad network in the best possible way. We would be happy to discuss with you which combination of services is right for you.

As a CLIB member, you have the exclusive option to introduce yourself in our CLIB Brochure with an advertisement.

For all questions about sponsorship at CLIB, please contact Markus Müller (mueller@clib-cluster.de) from the CLIB team.

About the CLIB International Conference 2027

From 17 to 18 February 2027, we are once again expecting more than 200 international participants from industry, academia, and politics from Germany, Europe and other international partner countries to attend our two-day conference. Under the title "Beyond business as usual – How biotechnology can thrive in a changing world", we will once again offer an exciting program of lectures from academia and industry, discussions, and space for networking.

Be present with your logo, place an ad in the Abstract Book, or book an exhibition stand. Or choose our exclusive option that is only given once: sponsoring the conference dinner on the evening of 17 February. In addition to the service combinations in our packages, we are also very happy to talk to you about individual packages.

About the CLIB Brochure 2027/2028

The CLIB brochure provides an overview of all CLIB activities and members every year. It will be published at the CLIB International Conference 2027 and distributed digitally over 12 months with a print run of 1,000 copies inside and outside the network. The target group includes science, business, and politics in Germany, as well as in other European countries.

As a CLIB member, you have the exclusive opportunity to increase your visibility by placing an ad in the brochure.
